

F-star starts its operations

Vienna, Austria, (12 June 2006) -- F-star starts its operations with an industry experienced management team. The company is optimizing its "modular antibody" technology and preparing for its own therapeutics product pipeline. F-star has signed a contract with the University of Applied Life Sciences that allows the company to use laboratory space and infrastructure at the University until F-star has established its own, independent facilities. The office is located close to the labs in the business center "nineteen" at Mooslackengasse 17; A-1190 Vienna, Austria.